Musings

□the lover's lament: "I was about to kiss her until I saw the spinach in her teeth."

□A specialist is a person who knows a lot about a little. Right? If he keeps studying more and more, he finally knows everything about nothing. A generalist, who knows a little about a lot, will, if he keeps studying, finally know nothing about everything, right?

□I fear some relatives even when they're not bearing gifts.

□I had a bad dream last night. The pilot of my plane had a death wish.

□The greatest waste of human resources in the U.S. is the skilled physician who retires early.

□A Peruvian writer said it: "If there is something stronger than iron, more enduring than granite and more effective than fire, it is the word of an honorable man."

□A pedestrian is a guy who insists his family doesn't need a second car.

□An essay is a form of literature that everything else is not.

□"I never got lost," Daniel Boone said, "but I was bewildered once for 3 days."

□If you are thinking of retiring, take time off and watch daytime television.

□Whistler asked a sitter if he liked the painting. "No, I can't say I do, Mr. Whistler, and you must really admit it's a bad work of art." "Yes," the artist said, "but then you must admit that you are a bad work of nature."

□After a few years of marriage, a man can look right at a woman without seeing her, and a woman can see right through a man without looking at him.

□I suspect that some of the South Shore residents who moved to New Hampshire to escape income taxes are embezzlers at heart.

□If you want your life to be an adventure, don't be afraid to make the bold move.

Mary Mele At Relocation Conference

Mary Mele, Relocation Director for Gallery of Homes' Hingham office of Richardson & Collins, recently spent two days at a National Relocation Seminar presented by the Relocation Department of Gallery of Homes. Over 30 Relocation Directors attended the seminar in Chicago.

The seminar was designed to acquaint the people involved with the new National programs being initiated to assure timely and free flowing information between Galleries for assisting supporting families being transferred from one part of the country to another.

Gallery also helps coordinate moves of local industries and national corporations which frequently move personnel. Programs were discussed which would help meet the needs of large corporate transfers by minimizing administrative costs through limiting corportative time involvement; minimizing actual relocation cost via cutting time required to buy and sell homes through Galleries proven marketing methods; and helping alleviate employee concerns by educating them about their new community and helping them get settled quickly.

Mary invites you to call her at 749-2300 for assistance or to answer questions about how Richardson & Collins, Gallery of Homes can help with relocation problems.

LANDSCAPING your home

We do the professional planning at no cost to you. And you do the planting! We can visit your home, or you can bring us a picture or sketch of your home. We have complete landscaping services available, too. Call our landscape division. We're growing... with your help. Thanks!
